Checkpoint 2 Chris - Portfolio 25-02-2025

Shingrani, Tina T. 15 days ago

I showed my professional paper prototype to Chris. From the previous time i made sure to follow his feedback accurately and even looked onto how its actually done (colors; layout; sticky notes etc) . I explained my paper prototype to Chris and he was very happy with how it turned out, even the usage of colors and the simplicity of it all. I also showed an experiment i tried by creating my own font for my portfolio. He liked it and added that maybe I should consider using a thicker pen or marker to make it bold as my writing on the paper prototype. I agree since typing with the thinner font did not look that legible.

I asked about whether or not I should use clay morphism into my portfolio with the help of actual clay or blender and his advice was that that could be used as a separate project and that i should focus on the way of paper prototype I made. The style is unique and could add more to my portfolio since its different. It looks like its on paper but its actually still a website but in a way traditionally sketched on paper. I liked the idea and want to dive deeper to it as well.

what i'm going to do:
- research on websites that look like traditional art.
- make a digital wireframe
- make a digital prototype
- keep documenting

Checkpoint 1 11-02-2025 🔒

Shingrani, Tina T. a month ago

Today, I had shown a mood board I was working on for Dana (client branding) where I had put several of her ideations

I have filled 2 vheckpoints for the group and make sure to show it the group before posting it directly. This is to ensure everyone agreees with the feedbacka nd incase I missed a point I could always add in.

My general attendance is also good: 87% on canvas

When I cannot be present or maybe late I tend to always let my group know but also the teachers:

Hey Paul! hope you're doing well. I wanted to inform you that i will be there at 9 tmr but i have an appointment at 10 to collect my key and finish some paperwork for my new apartment. Right after that i will be back at school to work on the remainder of the group project. I can't promise if i will be back before 11 but surely before the break. I did inform my team, i just wanted to let you know in advance. Have a great evening ahead!

25-02 23:19

I just checked my route and there are bigger chances i may not make it at 9 due to bus wait. Regardless, I will see you tomorrow at school.
